Exterior

Portofino is a 70 feet catamaran developed to be a benchmark in the branch of luxury charter.

It was designed to optimize the guest's experience and all the on-board services, including maintenance and management by the crew.

One of the main features, which sets it apart from other catamarans, is the amidship engine room. This solution makes this space easily accessible.

Exterior

The bow area features a dual-function ladder that allows access to the sea. The stern cabins have a private access to the beach-area with folding terraces where guests can enjoy and relax.

The architecture of the exteriors is focused on overlapped surfaces that define both the shape and the function of the spaces.
